YOUNG MEN

[illegible] suffering from the effect of youth[illegible] indiscretion, will do well to avail [illegible] of this, the greatest boon ever laid [illegible] the altar of suffering humanity. Dr. SPIN[NEY] will guarantee to forfeit $500 for every [illegible] or private [illegible] of [illegible] which he undertakes [illegible] and fails to cure. He would, therefore, say to [illegible] who may read this notice, that you are treading upon dangerous ground when you longer delay in seeking the proper remedy for your complaint. You may be in the first stage. Remember you are approaching the last. If you are bordering upon the last and are suffering some or all its ill effects, remember that if you persist in procrastination the time must come when the most skillful physician can render you no assistance; when the door of hope will be closed against you; when no angel of mercy can bring you relief. In no case has the Doctor failed of success. Then let not despair work upon your imagination, but avail yourself of the beneficial results of his treatment before your case is beyond the reach of medical skill, or before grim death hurries you to a premature grave. Full course of treatment, $25.00. Send money by Post Office Order or Express with full history of case. Call, or address DR. A. B. SPINNEY, No. 11 Kearny Street, San Francisco.

[illegible], Pa., Oct. 21.—Billy Scharff won the [illegible] beating Evan Morris one length [illegible] and 25 seconds.

News from the Sioux War.

[illegible], Wy., Oct. 21.—Advices from Red Cloud [illegible] the 15th are as follows: Immedi[ately] [illegible] the commissioners left the agency [illegible] Indians moved and camped about 25 [illegible] leaving in only squaws and a few [illegible] days to draw rations. They were so [illegible] information could be had as to their [illegible] and doubtless many of them [illegible] on raids and plundering expeditions. [illegible] them by Agent Smith, U. S. army, [illegible] to come into the agency to this [illegible] no attention. In the meantime General [illegible] and several of his staff arrived there and [illegible] immediately sent to the Indians that no [illegible] would be issued unless they came in [illegible] where they belonged. Yesterday [illegible] day, and very few Indians were present [illegible] and one of his band came in and he [illegible] receive rations. The ultimatum will not [illegible] from in the smallest degree unless it is [illegible] with trouble and [illegible] with 100 cavalry, left Fort Russell yesterday [illegible] to intercept the raiding parties operating on [illegible].

[illegible], Oct. 22.—The telegraph line to Fetter[man] [illegible] has been down since the 18th [illegible] been the work of Indians. Communication [illegible] re-established with that post to-day. We [illegible] of the suicide there of Miss Ella Har[illegible] shooting on the 14th inst. On the 17th [illegible] supply train was attacked by Indians [illegible] and Laramie. T. M. Tweed's Sojourn in Cuba.

NEW YORK, Oct. [illegible].—The Herald publishes an account of Tweed's sojourn in Cuba. It appears that he with his companion Hunt suddenly landed on the coast near Santiago on the 11th of June. They went to Santiago, where Tweed was detained until July [illegible] for the purpose of the investigation by the Spanish authorities. His passports were for the name of John Secor, a citizen of the United States, a certificate which bore a date early in April, some four months after the escape from jail. [illegible] Hunt is now said to be [illegible] Maginnis of New Orleans, with whose appearance a photograph of Hunt agrees perfectly.

Piracy.

The schooner Joseph Marsh was boarded on Friday night in Long Island Sound between Rikers Island and College Point by nine masked pirates, who overpowered and robbed the crew of everything valuable and escaped.

The Enforcement Act.

A Herald Atlanta special says Governor Smith has submitted to the Attorney General of Georgia the question of the constitutionality of Attorney General Taft's order and the enforcement act. It is an open secret that the State Attorney General believes both unconstitutional and will so decide, whereupon the Governor will instruct the Georgia militia to take no orders except from our commissioned officers. This will be construed to relieve any citizen of Georgia from becoming part of a posse when called upon by the United States deputy marshals.

Snagged and Sunk.

MEMPHIS, Oct. 22.—A telegram from Pine Bluffs says the steamer Joan Miller, of the Memphis and Arkansas River Packet Co., from Little Rock for Memphis with four hundred bales of cotton, struck a snag and sank near Seven Lake yesterday. No particulars.

Wade Hampton's Advice.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Oct. 22.—General Hampton in a speech at Aiken told the people to offer no resistance to arrests but to submit quietly to everything. If the United States soldiers are ordered to fire upon the people the latter must not resist, but bare their breasts and be willing to die for the good of the country.

Railway Collision.

KEENE, N. H., Oct. 22.—The down freight train on the Cheshire railroad was run into by an engine going up about five miles from this place, and Henry M. Staples, engineer, and Lewis H. Phillips, fireman of the freight engine, were killed.

Where the Hebrew Children will be.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 22.—The Hebrew Orphan Asylum, an imposing new edifice on Calverton Heights, about two miles from the northwestern section of the city, was dedicated to-day with solemn religious ceremony.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Land Office Decisions.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—The following decision of the department of the Interior are taken from Copp's Land Owner for October:

Swamp lands—State of Minnesota vs. St. Paul and Sioux City railroad. In this case the grant to Minnesota to aid in the construction of certain railroads was a grant in præsenti which required possession and occupation of certain sections on the definite locations of the road. This title could only be diverted by a forfeiture or by a conveyance. The State having accepted and applied the lands in question for the purposes specified in the act of 1857 is estopped by her own acts from claiming them under another act for different purposes.

Rancha Piedra Blanca. The survey of a private land claim must be made by the Surveyor General and not by the claimants. Where public interest demands that 20 acres of California private land should be reserved for light house or other public purposes the survey of such claim will be made to exclude such 20 acres especially where the claim is for a certain quantity within larger out contracts.

U. S. Marshal's Report.

The official report of United States Marshal R. M. Wallace, of South Carolina, addressed to Attorney General Taft, was among other papers on the condition of the South, read at a cabinet meeting to-day:

CHARLESTON, Oct. 17.

Hon. A. Taft, Attorney General: Sir—I have delayed giving you a report of the recent unfortunate political riot near Cainhoy, this county, until I could get a correct statement of facts. It is one of the legitimate results of the intimidation policy or Mississippi plan adopted by the Democratic party in opening their campaign for the purpose of breaking down the Republican majority in this State. The first meeting in this county at which Democrats put their shotgun policy in practice took place over a month ago on Cooper river some ten or twelve miles from the scene of the late riot. The Republicans had called a meeting and the Democrats in this city chartered a steamboat, taking about a hundred and fifty well armed men to the meeting. They formed their men in line near by and demanded that they should have half time for their speakers. The Republicans did not relish this kind of peaceful political discussion, but the request was backed up by 150 Winchester repeating rifles in the hands of men who knew how to use them, and they consented to a division of time. Other meetings followed this with similar displays of arms, and in order to avoid collision which was imminent at each meeting, the executive committees of each party arranged to have a series of joint discussions and agreed their people should not come armed to meetings. The discussions in the county had been going on with more or less bitterness and animosity, mainly growing out of the fact that the Democrats carried a large force of men from the city to every meeting who offended the Republicans by their violent denunciation of their leader and their party. The meeting at the brick church near Cainhoy was called by the Republicans and was largely attended by men who were present at the first meeting at which the Democrats had enforced their demand to speak, but had not attended all of the joint discussions, and many of them being suspicious of the Democrats carried such guns as each man had at his home, consisting of old muskets, shot guns and fowling pieces, but no militia went there with arms and ammunition as the Democrats claim, and the best evidence of that fact is that all the dead were shot with buckshot and not with rifle balls. When these colored Republicans reached the place of meeting their leading man told them they were violating the agreement by coming armed and that they must deposit their arms at some place away from the grounds. The colored men complied with the request and some guns, say fifteen, were placed in an old dilapidated building, some fifty yards from the stand, and guards placed across the ravine in the woods. About 150 Democrats accompanied their speakers from the city on foot and soon appeared at the meeting. The first speaker was the Democratic candidate for district attorney of the circuit. He was heard through very patiently. He was followed by W. J. McKinlay, colored, delegate to the Cincinnati convention from this State.

Plan to Murder Gov. Chamberlain.

Tribune Washington dispatches received here show that the one armed Butler rifle club had arranged to kill Governor Chamberlain at the meeting at Edgefield Court-house. Squads of men entered the train at various stations shouting in the most insulting manner: "Where is Chamberlain?" The Republicans were only protected in their meeting by the unexpected arrival of the United States troops. The rifle clubs practically broke up the meeting by their howling.

Indian Agent Appointed.

WASHINGTON, Oct. [illegible].—The President has appointed [illegible] the commission of William [illegible] to be agent for the Indians of Grand River, Standing Rock agency, Dakota.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

Slade, the Medium, Arrested for Fraudulent Pretences.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—Three new summonses have been issued against Slade, the American medium, and Simmons, his assistant, for fraudulent pretences. These summonses are returnable to-morrow, when the case comes up.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—The case of Dr. Slade, the American medium, and his assistant has been adjourned until Friday next. It seems probable from the course of proceedings that the case will be sent before a jury.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Discontinued Central City, Coos county, Oregon; Midway, Umatilla county, Oregon; name changed Irvine, Lane county, Oregon, to Irving.

THE EASTERN QUESTION.

LONDON, Oct. [illegible].—A special dispatch from Vienna says two large clubs of the constitutional party in the Austrian Reichsrath [illegible] to put to the ministers [illegible] respecting the attitude of the government [illegible] the Eastern question [illegible] declare against any intervention in what [illegible].

Objections as to competency of the Reichsrath in foreign affairs hitherto reserved to the delegations at the Austro-Hungarian delegations were overruled.

In the Servian camp, according to the [illegible] correspondent, the fighting [illegible]. Fighting continues [illegible]. The Servians under [illegible] Tchernayeff [illegible] drive the Turk from their positions. The Servians [illegible] the Turks [illegible]. The Pall Mall Gazette publishes a long statement which it says is by a person fully entitled to speak on behalf of the whole body of American missionaries in Turkey. The writer says the Protestant missionaries do not hesitate to say that the Turkish Government affords better assurance of religious liberty than some forms of Christian rule which might replace it. The missionaries have such dread of Russian ascendency that they have requested the confidential [illegible] before the German Government certain proofs of Russia's intolerance and to solicit Germany to secure from Russia guarantees of religious liberty before consenting to the dismemberment of Turkey or Russian occupation. The mission [illegible] to Germany because America's policy of non intervention in European affairs precludes her from treating the question by diplomacy.

VIENNA, Oct. 21.—The ministerial center party of the Reichsrath to-day laid on the table an interpellation signed by 112 members declaring that an understanding between Austria and Russia on the Eastern question is indispensable.

BELGRADE, Oct. 20.—Gen. Tchernayeff has transferred his headquarters from Deligrad to Kaguik.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—The Pall Mall Gazette says we have no faith in the negotiations nor the reported understanding between the Powers and do not believe any of them have abated their intentions or laid aside their jealousies or modified their policy. The least sanguine view is the safest.

All continental bourses to-day showed evidence of returning confidence.

RAGUSA, Oct. 21.—Dervish Pasha has evacuated Montenegro. The levy en masse which he recently ordered in Albania proved a failure. Only 90 men responded.

VIENNA, Oct. 21.—Intelligence received here states that the Russian war minister has ordered the concentration of ten army corps. The Grand Duke Michael Nicolayevitch, brother of the Czar, will take command, and it is said his staff has already been formed.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 21.—Friday's article in the London Times containing the statement that England was averse to rendering military assistance to the Porte has produced considerable impression here. It is certain that after the Sultan has received General Ignatieff, the Russian ambassador, there will be fresh deliberation at the Divan.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—A dispatch from Vienna says Russia has presented to the Porte her ultimatum, embracing in substance the following points: First, a six weeks armistice unconditionally; second, administrative autonomy for Bulgaria, Bosnia and Herzegovina; third, execution of reforms under supervision of commissioners named by the great powers and to be protected by an armed foreign force.

The article in yesterday's Times which stated that the cabinet at a meeting Thursday night did nothing that can justify the fears of British participation in war, and that England is not called upon either by text of treaties or by moral obligations to interfere, was unquestionably an official communication.

To-day's dispatches necessitate a serious modification of previous views in regard to the Eastern question by the confession of the Times' Vienna correspondent that he was mistaken about the powers which had declared their acceptance of the six months' armistice. Neither Austria, France or Italy had notified the Porte of their acceptance of that proposal, though none had objected to it. England alone took formal action in its favor. The effect of this is that all the powers except England remain in position to urge the Porte to concede to the Russian demand. On the other hand it seems certain that Russia has not the support of either Germany or Austria in the contemplated movement against Bulgaria. The announcement that Czarovitch will visit the courts at Vienna, Berlin and London seems to indicate that Russia is hesitating to act separately. Anyhow the mission of Col. Nastashkoff, the Czar's adjutant, to the Emperor of Austria fared no better than that of Sumarakoff, and the weight of evidence seems to show that other Powers have like England taken up an expectant attitude in the face of Russia's warlike preparations, for we have also a contradiction of the Russo-Italian alliance from several quarters, including an inspired Reuter dispatch from Rome which says, contrary to rumor, Italy up to the present maintains an attitude of reserve. Prince Bismarck is still at Varrel, the Emperor of Austria and Count Andrassy are at Pesth and the Russian Count at Livadia. At Belgrade it is declared that the Czar's return to St. Petersburg will be a signal for the entry of the Russian army into Bulgaria.

The Paris correspondent of the Times calls attention to the fact that since Russia's refusal of the long armistice she has been face to face with Turkey, no other power having approached Turkey, that by strange accord entire Europe has abandoned the fiction by which the discussion was carried on in the name of Servia and Montenegro. By one of the most singular transformations in history Russia and Turkey are at war while Europe is trembling at the prospect of such a war. It will not therefore be surprising if Turkey throws overboard the so called collective protection of powers and opens negotiations with Russia. In the programme of Russia's wishes there are points to which Turkey will easily resign herself, but where [illegible] sting powers would oppose. Turkey cannot abandon her magnificent Bulgarian province without committing suicide. Turkish statesmen believe she may in dealing [illegible] with Russia save Bulgaria by granting the liberty of the Bosphorus, but Turkey is bound by the treaties of 18[illegible] to watch the freedom of the Bosphorus is contrary, but the powerless of Europe is drawing Turkey into negotiations with her bitterest enemy, and the Porte may break her treaty in despair.

[illegible] has information that Russia ordered the mobilization of the corps De Arint, which has headquarters at Warsaw. A dispatch from Belgrade states that the Turks captured Schilzwok and had taken the heights of Greeditm.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—A special from London says England has decided to leave the Ottoman empire to its fate. She will hold Constantinople to the last extremity, but the rest of the country can be divided up among whatever nations are able to subdue and hold it. If Russia now crosses into the Balkans the hour of Turkey in Europe has come. England's plan now is to make Constantinople a second Gibraltar. Her Majesty's cabinet Thursday night resolved that the invasion of Turkey by the Russians shall be the signal for the occupation of Constantinople by 30,000 men and movement of the whole fleet of iron clads in Besika Bay to the Golden Horn to provide for such emergency. The transports will at once carry three corps of regulars to Malta, where enormous quantities of military stores and provisions have been accumulating for months past. Should the non belligerent powers such as Germany, Austria and France oppose this, Britain's policy will be the occupation of Egypt. This course is rendered necessary by the vital importance to Great Britain of the Suez Canal. Some prominent Englishmen say the Khedive would be very willing to hold his title under the sovereignty of the English much the same as the royal princes of India. The command of the British troops in the East has been assigned to Major General Sir Charles William Dunbar Staveley, K. C. B., an experienced Indian officer. Fifty half pay officers of the British army have applied for permission to join the Turkish [illegible]. Latter [illegible] hatred of Russia and [illegible] said to be already offered to them.

LONDON, Oct. [illegible].—France [illegible] down on assurances that the English cabinet [illegible] the effort to maintain the integrity of the Ottoman Empire, and consequently that a general war is now highly improbable. Nevertheless it is believed the existing war must continue unless Turkey concedes to Russia's demand, but may be [illegible] slowly until Russia shall be assured that its [illegible] of Turkey will not bring her into collision with the other powers. That the Czar is unwilling to push the [illegible] until [illegible] of this is [illegible] by diplomatic [illegible] at Continental capitals and the Czar's visits. [illegible] the Powers have contracted an alliance with either side. All [illegible] themselves in reserve. England's warlike preparations look only to her readiness for the protection of her own interests against the possible contingencies of Russia's movement [illegible] future [illegible].

Trotting at Bay District.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—At Bay District track to-day a large crowd assembled to see the conclusion of the unfinished race between Oakland Maid, May Howard, St. James and George Treat. The weather could not have been better and the recent rain improved the track so that it was in the best possible condition. The judges decided that the rules of the turf rendered all bets and pools off, more than five days having elapsed since the beginning of the race. This occasioned considerable argument, but the decision was received without much opposition. It will be remembered that on Saturday last four heats were trotted, each horse winning one, leaving Oakland Maid favorite in the pools, which position she held to-day but at somewhat lower relative figures. The first heat—the start was a very fair one for all save May Howard, who was a couple of lengths behind when the word was given. St. James and George Treat went round the turn nearly even, passing the quarter pole in 36½ seconds, with Oakland Maid not far behind going up the back stretch. Oakland Maid showed her superiority in speed by passing the others with apparent ease. She led by two lengths at the half mile in 1:11, and the driver of May Howard, seeing the others could not come near taking the measure of the Maid, passed them and took the second place, although Howard closed some of the gap. The heat was never in doubt, and Oakland Maid, trotting fast and steadily, won in the very fast time of 2:23¾; Howard second, Treat third, St. James fourth. After the heat Oakland Maid was an immense favorite.

Second heat—Oakland Maid was on a break when the word was given and this enabled the others to take the lead of her. Treat was first at the quarter pole in 36½. May Howard passed him about half way down the stretch, and Oakland Maid, trotting very fast, was close on the leaders at the half mile in 1:11½. The Maid on the upper turn, as in the previous heat, manifested her superiority by taking the lead in a few strides, while May Howard made a determined effort. It was bootless as far as winning the heat went; the Maid was on her good behavior, winning with something to spare and making a faster heat than the other, notwithstanding the drawback of the break at the start. Time 2:22. May Howard second, George Treat third, St. James fourth. The friends of Oakland Maid, much elated at her fast time, and considering what she lost by the break at starting, are firm in the belief that she is good for 2:20 and will eventually show speed equal to the fastest.

The race at Oakland to-morrow is for a purse of $1,000, for stallions that have never beaten 2:30. There are eight entries, with probably five starters. In the pools Reno is the favorite, Ventura second.

Registration of Voters.

The registration of naturalized citizens which practically disfranchises over 4,000 foreign born citizens, occasions a great deal of indignant comment in Democratic circles. It is alleged by those who profess to have examined the black list that it contains the names of 3,800 Democrats and only 400 Republicans. It is also very generally reported that it was a put-up job to carry the list for the Republican candidates, and that it was the original design to keep the matter quiet until the day before election, when the trap would be sprung, and that the movement originated very near the Republican Central Committee, but that some incautious person who was privy to the arrangement leaked, which rendered immediate publication imperative. This phase of the question is scouted among the Republicans as a mere attempt to throw the odium upon their party managers by causing them to bear the onus of the fact that a great number of Democratic voters are illegally registered. Whatever the truth may be in these rumors, it is an undoubted fact that proper action will have the effect to disfranchise hundreds of voters against whose right to suffrage no question could be possibly raised, except upon a technicality, while it will be practically impossible for them to obtain before election the proofs required of their naturalization.

The Democratic State Central Committee have sought legal advice concerning the registration muddle, and their counsel, Messrs. Burch & Griffith, tell them Supervisor Holland has exceeded his powers, and that his black list amounts to nothing. At a meeting of the 10th Senatorial District Club last evening a resolution was adopted calling for an extra session of the Legislature to enable the law to take effect that every man living in California, be he native or foreign born, whose name is now recorded on the great register of any county of the State and remaining uncancelled thereon, shall be entitled to vote at the election to be held on Nov. 7, 1876, and at every election subsequent thereto, notwithstanding any irregularity that may exist in any of the matters recorded on said great register.

Chinese Investigation.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—The Congressional committee on the Chinese question reassembled this morning and listened to the arguments of Frank McCoppin, representing the State Senate, and Frank Pixley on behalf of this city on the subject under inquiry. The remarks of these gentlemen were devoted to the general arraignment of the policy which permitted unrestricted Chinese immigration, and setting forth the evils flowing from Mongolian invasion.

Dreadful Railroad Accident.

OAKLAND, Oct. 21.—A shocking railroad accident occurred in this city about 2 o'clock this morning. The particulars are supposed to be as follows: Joseph Barstow, a gentleman about 74 years old, who resided on the corner of Fourteenth and Harrison streets, has for a long time been in ill health, and it might be being unable to sleep he has been in the habit of getting up out of bed at all hours and going out in the streets. Last night he got up, and it is supposed wandered down to the water front, and in going across the railroad track was struck and run over by a special engine drawing the pay car. The accident occurred in front of the Hotel de France early this morning. His head and leg were found near Alice street crossing, some four blocks from where he was first struck. The remainder of the unfortunate man's body was picked up this morning in pieces not larger than a man's hand.

Land Slide.

A land slide occurred in a canyon through the Contra Costa mountains near Melrose yesterday, by which the train on the Western Pacific was stopped, the engine being thrown off the track and the engineer and fireman being killed. It was reported about town that the accident occurred to the overland train due here at 5:20 last evening, which was about an hour late. The employes of the company deny that, however, and while professing to know little about the accident state that it was an east bound freight train, admitting the loss of life as above stated. The names of the engineer and the fireman killed are not given.

Smallpox.

Not a single case of smallpox this morning. Total number of cases reported since the breaking out of an epidemic 360, with 27 deaths.

Fatal Explosion.

OROVILLE, Oct. 22.—To-day N. Zimbulich, in order to clean a large barrel, put in a quantity of lime and water and left it in the front of his saloon. His little boy, 7 years old, was leaning against the end when it exploded with a loud report, blowing the end out and injuring the boy so badly that he only lived a few hours.

Brutally Murdered.

PETALUMA, Oct. 22.—Wm. Brown, an old and respected resident of Marin county, living in Chileno valley about eight miles from this city, while returning to and when within a short distance of his home, was dragged from his carriage and brutally murdered between 7 and 8 o'clock last night. He received no less than five stabs, either of which would have proved fatal. He also received a heavy blow on the head, apparently from a revolver. Some sixty dollars in silver, a gold watch and chain and a gold ring were taken from him. The murder causes great excitement, as he was well known throughout Sonoma and Marin counties.

UTAH.

Snow in the Wasatch Mountains.

SALT LAKE, Oct. 21.—Snow has fallen in the mountains in this neighborhood within the past few days to the depth of from one to three inches.

Labor Disturbances.

There has been considerable disturbance at Sandy smelting works in Utah in consequence of the increase of time by employers. The employes of one of the furnaces belonging to the Miners' Union refusing to accede to the increased time were discharged and new men were employed, but these were driven from the works. Eight of the rioters have been arrested and, failing to give security, are now in the county jail.

POLITICAL DISCUSSION AT ALBANY.

ALBANY, Oct. 20, 1876.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

The Republican and Democratic candidates for Presidential electors met at Albany on October 20th and had a joint discussion. The court house was filled with people, two thirds of whom were Republican and the rest Democratic.

Dr. Watts led off in an effective speech in which he compared the platforms and defended the party from the charge of corruption. He showed from Mr. Bristow's report that the administration of the government by the Republicans was purer than under the Democrats. He showed the falsity of the charge that there had been enough money collected to pay the legal tenders eleven times.* Other points were made with great effect. The Democrats expressed themselves as much astonished. The doctor showed by a comparison of the two parties that the South was the citadel of the Democracy. The South is unmindful of the past and is not magnanimous; on the other hand, the conduct and declarations of Sumner and Greeley and hosts of others prove the North is.

Mr. Cronin followed in an ingenious and thoroughly Democratic speech. He harped on the alleged corruption of the Republican party, and was specially severe on the Chinamen and their friends. Dr. Lindsley was very roughly handled by him. But his speech did not seem to satisfy the audience.

Dr. Watts closed, and in a fifteen minutes' speech poured hot shot into the Democracy. His success in stirring up the people was remarkable. Women waved their handkerchiefs and men stamped and shouted. Many compliments were paid the doctor on his success. Look out for old Linn.

MARK TWAIN AS A POLITICIAN.

Mark Twain is as blunt in his treatment of political questions as in his humor. He wants Hayes elected President, and this is the way he tells his reasons therefor:

There used to be a party cry, "Measures, not men." That was an honester day. We need to reverse that now. [illegible] political swim [illegible] ought to say—you will find that the [illegible] men in both parties are equally [illegible], equally well meaning. Both will [illegible] the country can [illegible] progress under. But what use is the [illegible] platform if the men elected upon it [illegible] ignore them and [illegible]. [illegible] Democratic [illegible] was powerless to save New York from the ravages of the Tweed gang, an excellent [illegible] platform has [illegible] save the country from the ravages of the present administration [illegible]. Platforms are not the [illegible] things now—I simply want to see the right man at the helm. I don't care what his party creed is. I want a man who isn't [illegible]. I want a man who will not go on sending [illegible] to heaven in such buzzards as [illegible] Belknap, Babcock and the rest of them [illegible] long after 40,000,000 of ordinary people have detected and come to loathe them. I want to see a man in the chief chair who can not only tell a buzzard when he sees it, but will promptly wring its neck.

DISASTER IN THE ARCTIC.

Twelve Vessels Lost.

Probable Loss of Life.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—The whaling bark Florence arrived this afternoon from the Arctic ocean with 170 men on board, being part of the crews of the Arctic whaling fleet, twelve of which were lost in the ice with a portion of the crews. The remaining survivors have gone to Honolulu on the bark Three Brothers. The following is a synopsis of the weather report of the masters of the fleet: On our arrival in Behring's sea we found plenty of ice and extremely cold weather. But few whales were taken in the first part of the season. Commenced taking walrus June 1st. The ships engaged soon got all they had casks for. Between the 20th of July and 1st of August the ships tacked over to the eastern shore and went north toward Port Barrow fast as the ice opened. The bark Arctic was crushed by ice July 7th, off Sea Horse Islands, 18 miles from land. The crew escaped to shore and finally were taken on board by the bark Onward and subsequently distributed among the fleet, Captain Whitney going on the bark Rainbow. About the 1st of August the fleet—fourteen in number—reached Port Barrow. The Northern Light and Norman stayed south whaling and escaped the disaster that followed. The fleet had to stand south from Port Barrow several times, owing to the ice setting on shore. On August 14th a breeze from the north and northwest broke up the ice and whales made their appearance. Soon all the ships were actively engaged northeast of Port Barrow. The wind held from west to northeast until the night of August 18th, when it began blowing fresh for east and northeast. All the ships stood in shore and anchored to avoid the drifting ice. On the afternoon of the 19th the wind increased and hauled to the north, bringing the ice on shore, and we all ran under the south side of Port Barrow, where we found a lee for a few hours; but next morning were obliged to run south as far as Cape Smith. The Rainbow and Three Brothers remained at Port Barrow for the next three days. The whales were numerous near Cape Smith and the ships busy taking them. Meantime the wind set in from the west, causing uneasy feeling. Space occupied by ships extended seven or eight miles off shore, running along by land southward. This kept steadily closing. On the 23d the wind freshened from the west and northwest, and all the ships except Rainbow and Three Brothers, which were still anchored at Port Barrow, were surrounded by drift ice. We beat to southwest. In the afternoon the wind began hauling south of west, but we still hoped before the ice closed on us to reach the open sea, or at least Sea Horse Island, where we could find shelter. At sunset the ice stopped our progress. On the morning of the 24th a thick fog set in. At this time a heavy ice pack reached along the whole coast, about two miles seaward, the ships all lying in open strips of water between that and the shore. The Clara Bell lost her rudder, ran ashore and anchored. The ice closed around her and a large berg grounded south of her and formed a breakwater, behind which she lay. The bark Florence drifted up to Cape Smith and got under the lee of a grounded iceberg, which proved her salvation. The ships Josephine, St. George, Cornelius Howland, and the barks Camilla, James Allen and Onward were enclosed in the pack during the afternoon and drifted rapidly to the northeast between Woody and Refuge inlets. The ship Marengo, under all sail, got within three or four ships' length of open water and then the ice closed upon. As we neared Port Barrow the current slackened and for two days we drifted slowly. The Rainbow and Three Brothers under Point Barrow lay in comparative safety, witnesses of our distress but unable to render assistance. The ships Marengo, St. George and the bark Acors Barns each sent a boat ashore, intending to follow with others containing provisions as a supply in case of disaster, but owing to ice starting afresh were unable to do so. On the 25th the first officer of the Three Brothers, with a boat's crew, took the wife of Capt. Hickmott, of the bark Acors Barns, to his ship for safety. Next day the St. George's men attempted to haul a boat ashore over the ice, but were caught in a fog. Thirteen of them got on board the Rainbow and Three Brothers, and the others regained ship except one who perished on the ice. Next day, the 13th, tried to get back to the St. George, but never reached her. Eleven were rescued by Capt. Owen, of the Three Brothers; the other two were frozen to death on the ice. The prospect was now very gloomy. The ships were held helplessly in ice and drifting rapidly northwest. August 28th—Reached the end of the bank and current changed to east. The ships at Port Barrow were no longer visible. The situation was worse than ever, the only hope being an easterly gale. August 29th—Found ourselves off Point Tangent; the crew of the Marengo attempted to get ashore, but returned unsuccessful. Next day the masters held council on the Java and concluded there was no further hope of saving the ships, some of which were already badly nipped by the ice. This was only a touch of what might be expected. The ships altogether had about three months' provisions—not sufficient to last through the winter. After a full discussion, seeing no way out of the difficulty, it was decided that the only way to save the lives of all was to reach land before escape became impossible. The 5th of September was chosen for the day of starting. The ships were from twenty to thirty miles from land, northeast of the west head of Smith's Bay. Sept. 5th—All being ready on board the C. Howland, St. George, Marengo, Desmond, Jas. Allen, Acors Barns and Onward, the signal for departure was given. The boats had been put in the best possible condition. The baggage consisted of about 25 days' rations, bread and meat, change of clothing and a blanket for each man. Everything else except guns and ammunition was left on board. The main hope was to find open water enough inside the ground ice to navigate the boats southward and to reach the two ships, which we supposed to be outside the pack. We left at 3 P. M. We would first carry the baggage half a mile or so ahead, then return and drag the boats along. The ice was very rough in places, and many holes which would not bear the weight of a man. Many of the men fell through and suffered much from cold. The first night we camped on the ice about four miles from the ships. Next morning we resumed the march in a blinding snow storm from the northeast. The prospect was most discouraging. Several of the men deserted and returned towards the ships, where a number of the crews remained who had refused to face the hardships and dangers on the journey towards land. Of their fate we know nothing. September 6th we reached a strip of open water, launched the boats and pulled towards the land. All that day and the next we kept working through and over the ice, and at 8 P. M. made land two miles west of Point Tangent. We continued working along the shore and at noon on the 9th sighted the Three Brothers and Rainbow at Port Barrow and reached them before night. We found the ice still solid beyond, and the only chance of escape was to drag the boats overland to the open sea, a distance as it afterwards proved of one hundred and thirty miles. We had sleds and attempted the journey, but on reaching Cape Smith found the bark Florence there. After a consultation it was decided that any effort to proceed would be simply madness, and preparations were commenced for wintering as best we could at Port Barrow. Boats were prepared for whaling, as that was the only resource for food, and work commenced on the huts. On the night of September 13th the ice began to break up before a strong east wind. The next day the Florence was able to get under way with all hands and baggage on board, ran down the coast and found the bark Clara Bell frozen fast in the ice. Her captain said he would stay by her until the 17th, when if there was no prospect of getting out he would leave in the boats for clear water, where the Florence was to wait for him. We made Sea Horse Island that night, and next night made Wainwright's Inlet. We waited there for the crew of the Clara Bell and to get water. On the afternoon of the 18th the Three Brothers and Rainbow, which had escaped from Port Barrow, joined us, the former bringing the crew of the Clara Bell, which remained fast in the ice with no hope of getting out. A part of the people on the Florence were then put on board the Three Brothers and a rendezvous appointed at St. Lawrence Bay, where they would stop for water. Both arrived there on the 23d, and left on the next day, the Florence for San Francisco and the Three Brothers for Honolulu. The following is a list of the abandoned vessels: Barks Onward and Clara Bell, San Francisco; ships St. George and Marengo and barks Cornelius Howland, James Allen and Java, of New Bedford; ship Camilla and barkentine Josephine, of Boston; bark Acors Barns, New London, and Hawaiian barks Desmond and Arctic. The vessels had on board altogether about a thousand barrels of oil, besides a large amount of whalebone and ivory. It is the undivided opinion of every master that no hope can be entertained of the rescue of the ships, or of those who remained on board them. All are undoubtedly lost by being carried away to the northeastward in the immense ice pack which closed them in [illegible] around.

(Signed.) W. H. Kelley, master [illegible]; B. F. Homan, of C. Howland; S. Wicks, of Acors Barns; J. Keenan, of James Allen; Jas. H. Knowles, of St. George; E. A. Ludlow, of Camilla; T. W. Williams, of Clara Bell; [illegible] F. Levy, of Josephine; Ezra B. Lapham, of Onward.

Inquiry of various masters of the Arctic fleet who arrived yesterday in the Florence fails to elicit much addition to their written report of the disaster. They say they are unable to state accurately the number of men left behind on deserted ships and those who [illegible] and returned to the vessels after the [illegible] of the movement to reach the [illegible], but from all that can be gathered, it [illegible]ble that they must number in the neighborhood of fifty or sixty. Many of the [illegible] Kanakas.) The [illegible] to give the names of but few of the lost.

THE LEGISLATURE AND THE CORPORATIONS.

HILLSBORO, Oct. 19, 1876.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

The agents of nearly all the [illegible]tions are using your paper to [illegible] present legislature, and their [illegible] closed without the relief they [illegible] stump last spring; but still I suppose it is out of place to offer a review of some of the corporation arguments.

Mr. Villard argues very ably that his company ought to be permitted to [illegible] as any they please whenever and wherever [illegible] get a monopoly or a combination, and [illegible] times and places carry at ruinous [illegible] break down opposition and [illegible] up with the tariff again. His whole [illegible] upon two propositions: one that the [illegible] has a sacred vested right, and the [illegible] their railroads don't pay. If either of these propositions is correct his [illegible] prevails, for the legislature cannot [illegible] vested rights and the people [illegible] bankrupt their own [illegible] let us see.

I fail to find in the [illegible] tion cited by Mr. V. or elsewhere [illegible] which can be construed into a grant of [illegible] nal license to be above the law, or to [illegible] the general provision of the [illegible] all [illegible] relating to corporations [illegible] "altered, amended or [illegible]" [illegible] some one can point us to a [illegible] organic law that is in the [illegible] we [illegible] stop demanding of our law-[illegible] guards as are needful in this [illegible] ter. If the constitution were in the course we should be obliged to [illegible] constitution, but I do not believe it is.

Now as to the profits on the [illegible]. There are in this valley say 240 miles bonded for about $16,000,000. Mr. Villard complains that last year they did [illegible] than 1½ per cent. on the [illegible] 'tween 2 and 3 per cent. on the [illegible] the bonds. Now I submit that it is [illegible] to figure upon the cost of these [illegible] their nominal value, neither [illegible] actual outlay on the road. That is [illegible] subtracting the subsidy from the [illegible] struction. If the company or its [illegible] ed money or used it in illegitimate [illegible] that amount should not be charged to the cost of the road, but to [illegible]. Especially is it wrong to try to tax the [illegible] of this valley in the most [illegible] ner, [illegible] by freight charges on grain, to pay [illegible] est on money which has been [illegible] primaries, corrupting legislatures and in [illegible] lic and private debaucheries. True, the [illegible] holders did not so spend their [illegible], but they lent it to the men who did, and knew then as they know now that it is [illegible] sense to expect the Willamette valley, with less than 50,000 inhabitants, to pay for a road and also pay for the enormous [illegible] that has been carried on in the [illegible].

But there is another [illegible] of this [illegible] of interest on the cost of the [illegible]. The United States cut down their [illegible] poor men and gave one-half of it to the road Company, still charging the [illegible] much for 80 acres as before for 160. In [illegible] the settlers of Oregon have been compelled to give to this company two and a half [illegible] acres of land worth $4,000,000, which is [illegible] than the entire cost of the [illegible]. Donations from counties, cities and individuals, [illegible]gate hundreds of thousands of dollars. [illegible] of way through fields, barn-yards, [illegible] roads and streets have been freely given, or, in a few instances, condemned by the [illegible] for a public use, and now the owners of this road, built with public funds and for public uses, are relying upon their vested private rights! If the railroad was a public use when it appropriated private property and obstructed public highways, it is a public use when the people propose to regulate its conduct. But the company threatens us that if we molest them they will not extend their [illegible]. I think we are safe in saying that there are other men in the world who could build a road if they wished, and the first company that applies will be the first to get the right of way.

There is another corporation which has not made permanent improvement to the value of one dollar in the State, and yet threatens to withdraw if we don't suit their ideas of legislation. I refer to what is popularly known as the Scotch Loan Company, and popularly supposed to consist of half a dozen Portland speculators who thereby escape a good deal of taxation. This corporation lends money at 10 per cent. and the borrower pays the tax, making his interest about 12 per cent. per annum, and in addition to that he pays 2 or 3 per cent. to negotiate the loan, and 1 or 2 per cent. for the company's inspection of his title, and so on, until he finds his loan a pretty tight accommodation. At the end of the term the money, if it came from Scotland, goes back doubled, and the country instead of being relieved is depleted of what currency there was on hand, so that we can easily say to this class of corporations: Let us make our own laws, and if they don't suit you, and if you can do better elsewhere, it is your privilege under article 1, section 30 of our constitution to emigrate whenever you please.

MONDAY MORNING, OCT. 23, 1876.

PARTY RESPONSIBILITY.

The Albany Democrat is calling loudly on the people of Oregon to repudiate the Republican party in the approaching election, because one man whom the Republican party has elevated to a high office, was discovered after his elevation to be disreputable. It must be conceded that if the theory of a party's responsibility for the character of every one of its official representatives is to prevail, as fully as contended by the sticklers of party rule generally, the Democrat's position is tenable. But this theory of party responsibility, with the broad application which is claimed for it, is essentially fallacious in its reasoning, and an unmitigated humbug in practical politics. No party was ever yet held responsible for the character of every man occupying a prominent place in its organization, and no party ever will be. Whenever a party has become so thoroughly debauched that it uniformly, or in a majority of cases, selects men for official position on other grounds than those of personal fitness for the position; or when, as a body, it deliberately and knowingly endorses bad men, it should be repudiated by the people, provided always that the people can see their way clearly to improve the tone of public service and political morals thereby. But this is not the case with the Republican party to-day. While there has been of late years much in it to criticise, it has not sunk to a lower depth in this [illegible] the party now demanding the transfer of power to itself; and there is not so much as a decent pretense of repentance or reform in the latter party, while the nomination of such a man as Governor Hayes by the Republicans is an earnest of better conduct on their part in the future. It is well understood by all intelligent men, in all parties, that the spoils system is the fountain from which spring nearly all the corruptions of the times, and that it is through that system that the disreputable politicians work their way into office. It is equally well understood that the spoils system is of Democratic paternity, having had its birth in the Democratic administration of Jackson, and having grown to its robust maturity under Democratic nurture. Furthermore, every person who knows anything of the attitude of the two parties toward the question, knows that Governor Hayes stands fairly and unequivocally committed and pledged to reform, to the eradication of the spoils system, to a return to the policy of Washington, and that he planted himself firmly on this solid ground of principle in face of the danger of provoking the opposition of the ring politicians of his own party; while Tilden has never uttered one word against the corrupt ring through which he hopes, in case of his [illegible], to establish and perpetuate the ascendancy of his party.

What [illegible] have the Democrats to offer as [illegible] they conjure to abandon the Republican party? Can they promise a purer public service? The history of the party would cast suspicion upon such a [illegible]; and the personal history of the individual whom they have designated to take the helm of state, leaves little to hope in that direction. There is an old saw about jumping out of the frying pan into the fire, which furnishes a complete answer to this invitation of the Democratic party, even if it were to be admitted that the Republican party should be held responsible for the bad behavior of every man who has obtained office through its assistance. Do the Democratic papers forget Tweed? Have they no remembrance of the doings of the Democratic ring of New York, of whom Samuel J. Tilden was a conspicuous member? If they have, let them turn to their files of the Tribune and see what their illustrious standard-bearer of four years ago, Horace Greeley, testified concerning that ring, and concerning Mr. Tilden in particular. Are they willing to stand or fall by the record which Jefferson Davis and his fellow Democrats made in that crimson chapter of American history from 1861 to 1865? Let them read the whole dismal story of Democratic rule from 1829 to the day when legally deprived of the right to rule, the leaders of the party resolved to ruin the country, and then let them finish up their studies by carefully conning the lesson of that fearful four years which ended in the murder of Abraham Lincoln, America's noblest nobleman; and if after this they are willing to stake their hopes of obtaining possession of the reins of government on the issue of party responsibility for individuals, we shall no longer demur, but shall enter cheerfully into a collation of the record to ascertain which party may properly demand the repudiation of the other at the hands of the people.

THANKS.

Some things the Legislature might well have done, it failed to do. It would have conferred a benefit on the country if it had set on foot some measure to enable the State to help itself out of the isolation which is killing its enterprises and giving retrogression for progress. Perhaps nothing could have been done in that direction beyond the initiatory steps toward such revision of our outgrown constitution as the necessities of the people demand. That would be little, and that little might possibly be afterwards trodden under foot by the people. But the mere start would indicate life, and life always implies possibilities of achievements. Then, the Legislature might have given some assistance, without infraction of the constitution, to the efforts of those who have, for some time, been carrying the burden of whatever was done to bring immigration to our borders and to take care of immigrants after their arrival. It might have reimbursed those on whose shoulders the State has been carried with distinguished honors, through the Centennial Exposition. It might have investigated, and let the people know the condition of the funds set apart to the sacred purpose of education. For a long time complaints have been common that the various school funds have been loaned to favorites of the Board on inadequate securities, not even the interest being collected. The Treasurer's report certainly contains prima facie evidence that these complaints have not been without foundation. The Legislature might have done the country good service by sifting the matter to the bottom. A good many other examples might be cited of its omitting needed work and doing work that was not needed.

But this is not the whole record. We have seldom known so much righteous slaughtering to be done by any legislative assembly as was done by that which has just closed. There was an amazing fertility exhibited in the production of bills, memorials and resolutions. Had the unanimity of the members been equal to their fecundity, it is impossible to imagine in what condition the State would have been left by their adjournment. The whole system of laws, which has hitherto been thought tolerable, would have been knocked topsy-turvy, the code reorganized into the most complete disorganization under the skillful hands of a number of young gentlemen of the legal profession, who will forget in a few years, if they continue at the bar, a great deal of what they know now. The swamp lands would have been gobbled up in huge grabs, free from the obligation to reclaim them. The State Treasury would have been bankrupted with wagon road jobs, penitentiary jobs, State capitol jobs, lunatic asylum jobs, and jobs of every other conceivable description. That we escape these ills is due to the laudable disposition of the members to indiscriminate slaughter. They did not kill everything that should have been slain, but for the much they did of this beneficient work let the country be duly grateful.

As suggested by the OREGONIAN some days since, it appears the eastern war is not likely to become general. The powers not directly interested will, according to the dispatches given this morning, drop out and leave the questions involved to be settled by those who are to gain or lose by the settlement. If the report of the English cabinet meeting is reliable, England will hardly care to interfere to prevent the occupation by Russia of Servia and Montenegro, but will content herself with making a Gibraltar of Constantinople, and thus protecting herself, for the present at least, against Russia's designs upon Western Asia, and at the same time indemnifying her citizens against loss on their Turkish stocks. It is probable, however, that this report is inaccurate, and possible that it is entirely sensational. The scheme as reported, though it would certainly furnish temporary security to England upon all points heretofore considered vital to her, seems too sudden and too bold to be real.

The letter of "Vidi," which appears this morning, was too late to serve any purpose in the Legislature; but as it gives the "other side" of a matter in which the people are vitally interested, and its points may be of use hereafter, we publish it. Instead of being two days behind time, it may prove to be two years in advance.

Ordinance No. 1838.

AN ORDINANCE TO PROVIDE FOR THE TIME and manner of improving that part of Second street lying between the north curb line of Oak street and the main sewer in Pine street, by putting in a branch sewer at the expense of the property benefited.

The City of Portland does ordain as follows:

Section 1. That the proposed improvement of that part of Second street lying between the north curb line of Oak street and the main sewer in Pine street, by putting in a branch sewer, shall be completed in the manner hereinafter provided on or before the 1st day of December, 1876.

Section 2. That portion of the street necessary to be used for digging the trench shall be cleared of all obstructions (except gas and water mains), at the expense of the contractor, who shall, after the pipe is laid and the trench filled, replace the pavement and all portions of street improvements disturbed, leaving the street in as good order as the same may be at the time of commencing the work, except such portion as the Committee on Streets and Public Property may direct to be omitted for the purpose of making other improvements.

Section 3. The improvement shall consist of putting in a branch sewer of Terra Cotta pipe of nine inches inside diameter, from a point at or near the north curb line of Oak street to connect with the main sewer in Pine street, with catchwater basins, manholes, lampholes, sockets and branches at such points as the Committee on Streets and Public Property may designate: the work to be done and the materials furnished to be strictly in accordance with the plans and specifications on file in the office of the Auditor and Clerk marked "Plans and specifications for a branch sewer in Second street."

Section 4. The expense of said sewer shall be assessed to the property directly benefited thereby.

Section 5. The contractor shall take entire charge of the work during its progress, and shall be responsible for any loss or accident resulting from carelessness or neglect.

Section 6. The Committee on Streets and Public Property are hereby authorized to advertise for proposals to receive bids and enter into contract with the lowest responsible bidder or bidders for the improvement specified in this Ordinance.

Section 7. The improvement shall be completed to the satisfaction of the Committee on Streets and Public Property and the Superintendent of Streets.

Passed the Common Council Oct. 18, 1876.

W. S. CALDWELL, Auditor and Clerk.

Approved, Oct. 20, 1876.

—NARROW ESCAPE —Capt B B mail agent between Portland and As had a very narrow escape from drown Saturday morning but fortunately he About 5 o clock that morning Tuttle, and the watchman on the boat to go to the postoffice in Astoria It was and the two men made their way considerable difficulty When about loud outcries were heard which em some person who had fallen over Capt. Tuttle said to the watchman person was evidently in the water of perishing and he was going if possible. He then started to the direction of the voice. Before pro he ran off the wharf, and pitched into the water. At the time the in and the water at the place was feet deep Encumbered with a heavy Capt. Tuttle could do but little to saving himself He sank nearly to the and on rising to the surface shouted tones to the watchman that he also. The darkness was in the watchman on receiving the unintelligence, ran down toward the for assistance His cries men to the rescue Mean Tuttle in floundering about in the gloom, grasped hold of a pile by kept himself afloat until assistance A rope was lowered, and after our doughty route agent was the wharf It was a very narrow The captain avers that he was pulled but by no means a wiser man, does not wish to acquire any more if it is to be obtained only by en his life in that manner The per Capt. Tuttle was so gal when he went overboard, be a Chinaman who in walking, stepped off He was also rescued

SPEAKING AT ORO FINO THEATER

Saturday evening proved to be a terrible stormy and inclement night, but notwithstanding that fact a large number of persons were present at the public speaking at Oro Fino Theater—at the regular weekly meeting of the Hayes and Wheeler Club Hon H W Scott and Judge Orange Jacobs, Republican nominee for delegate to Congress were announced as speakers on the occasion Judge Jacobs was unable to reach Portland for some reason and consequently did not appear to the great disappointment of many Mr Scott was introduced and spoke for some time His discussion of the political issues of the present campaign was very logical and candid and did not fail to impress the audience with much favor Mr Scott has spoken several times at different places during the campaign and his able and telling blows at Democracy has done much to aid and strengthen Hayes and Wheeler in this State Frequent and hearty applause greeted Mr Scott's remarks It can be classed among the strongest and most effective speeches of the campaign At the conclusion of Mr Scott's speech Dr I I Sloan was introduced and addressed the meeting for a short time in a manner eliciting enthusiastic applause Had not the weather proved so unpropitious the theater, no doubt would have been filled to repletion However the meeting was very successful considering the unfavorable nature of the evening

AMUSEMENTS.

THE SAWTELLE TROUPE — This troupe of whose performance the Salem papers speak in such complimentary terms are announced to appear at Oro Fino Theater Wednesday and Thursday evenings of the present week This and to-morrow evenings the troupe will appear at Astoria After giving two performances here, the troupe will start for the Sound appearing at Olympia Friday and Saturday evenings of the present week and Monday and Tuesday of next week On appearing here the first night the beautiful drama of 'Driven from Home' will be rendered concluding with the very funny farce of 'The Two Puddifoots' Thursday the comedy of 'School,' and a ludicrous farce, will constitute the bill of fare

THE ROYAL MARIONETTES —Notwithstanding the rain during the past week this novel troupe was liberally patronized by large and fashionable audiences The two matinees Wednesday and Saturday were so crowded that chairs and stools had to be taken into the dress circle to accommodate and we saw many standing unable to obtain sitting room Owing to their great success, they have determined to remain a few nights longer viz To night Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, and give one more matinee on Wednesday afternoon at 2½ o clock The programme will be entirely new, introducing new songs jokes and choruses by the Christy Minstrels—an entire change of Fantoccini presenting the 'Old Woman who Lived in a Shoe' 'The Wonderful Animated Skeleton' a duet between "The Old Sailor and Wife, a real Irish jig by 'Pat and Biddy' after which the beautiful little story entitled 'Babes in the Woods" will be produced with all the new scenery, the ascension of the little ones to heaven, and closing with the grand transformation scene, which of itself alone is worth the price of admission From what we have seen in the San Francisco papers, we think that this programme will be as good as the first If so, the New Market Theater will be crowded Tickets can be obtained at Gray's music store

A CARD.

Manager Waldron publishes the following card

To the Citizens of Portland Owing to the great success of the Royal Marionettes at the New Market Theater during the pouring rain of last week the house being comfortably filled every night and the matinees crowded to almost suffocation I have at the earnest solicitation of many families and at the request of many in the inland towns for whom I have arranged for excursion tickets on the railroads at half fare concluded to remain a few nights more—this (Monday) evening, Tuesday Thursday and Friday and give one matinee for families and children on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock The programme will be changed giving a new first part introducing the laughable Christy Minstrels the Skidmore Guards—with new songs and choruses—an entire new pantomime also presenting for the first time with all its beautiful scenery and dramatic effects the domestic pantomime entitled Babes in the Wood or the Mother's Prayer closing with the grand transformation scene acknowledged to be the most beautiful tableau ever witnessed on this coast

Thanking the citizens of Portland and vicinity for their liberal support and assuring them that they will be amply repaid should they continue their patronage this week I remain the public's obedient servant

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

The bark Lady Head will take a cargo of 600 tons of coal from the British Columbia mines for London

Donaldson's party prospecting at Jarvis Inlet report that they have struck rich silver and copper ore

The Nanaimo Free Press learns that the specimen of coal taken out of the Union mine at Comox and sent to the great American Centennial Exhibition at Philadelphia has obtained a first prize

Says the Nanaimo Free Press On the 11th workmen had penetrated to a depth of ten feet through solid coal, in the seam struck in Messrs Nicholas and Francis shaft on the Cornish farm The full thickness of the seam has not yet been ascertained but a ten feet seam of coal is indeed a valuable strike

The following list of fatal casualties within the Province during the three months ending 30th September is July—Two men of Trutch's party of surveyors drowned in Thompson river; Robert Jeffrey, by fall of a tree at Baynes' Sound T Christian at Cherry Creek by fall of earth Isaac Houth of Hunter's party of surveyors, by canoe capsizing on Salmon river two men drowned in the Delore August—One man drowned by canoe capsizing in Burrard's Inlet Lake Craknell, by fall of earth at Cassiar September—George Brown Matthew McDowell and a Chinaman by explosion at Newcastle pit I Cloake by house burning, at Saanich

Says the Colonist A most disastrous accident has happened at the Wellington coal mine but fortunately unattended with loss of life. On the 14th one of the air furnaces was made too large and set fire to the wood work of the shaft and also to one of the pillars of coal which are kept at intervals to support the roof The fire has been raging ever since but the company think that they are now getting the better of it Steam is being pumped into the mine and as far as possible all ventilation shut off It is impossible to give any estimate of the damage which will be caused by this most unfortunate accident The fire was extinguished on Tuesday following and work will be resumed in a few weeks

Now the Legislature is over take your coffee at Barnes'

Fevers seldom make an attack without warning, and may often be thrown off by soaking the feet in warm water wrapping up warm in bed and taking two or three of Parson's Purgative Pills

A missionary just returned says he regards Johnson's Anodyne Liniment as beyond all price, and efficacious beyond any other medicine It is adapted to a great variety of special cases, and is the best pain cure in the world

HAGAN'S MAGNOLIA BALM preserves and restores the complexion removes freckles tan and sallowness, makes the skin soft white and delicate Its application cannot be detected

LYON'S KATHAIRON makes beautiful glossy luxuriant hair; prevents its falling out or turning gray. It has stood the test of 40 years. Is charmingly perfumed, and has no rival

RIVER AND HARBOR IMPROVEMENTS

The snagboat will finish work at [illegible] slough to-day and commence operations below Kalama next Monday

The lighthouse tender Shubrick is at present over on the Sound She will come up the Columbia river next week and then go back to San Francisco visiting the light stations on the way down the coast

The dredger is now at work at Swan Island having completed the cut through Postoffice Bar Should the river rise sufficient so as to render her work no longer necessary she will be sent to St Helens

During the past week the action of the sea has been very heavy at Point Adams about _ feet of the shore having been carried away Although strong efforts have been made to procure stone and bids have finally been accepted for its delivery it is feared sufficient work cannot be done this winter to prevent the erosion the fund not having been allotted until October

The U S Engineer's office here has received drawings photographs and descriptions of the large dredgers used in excavating in New York harbor They could be used with great success in the lower Columbia and Willamette rivers and could be delivered here ready for work including dump scows for about $ 2000 in Parties desiring to examine the photograph and drawings can do so by applying at the engineer's office

Efforts are being made to have range lights placed on the day beacons on Sand Island for the benefit of vessels arriving off the bar after night It often happens that vessels arriving off the bar after night could cross over in calm weather with the aid of range lights The absence of these lights renders it necessary for the vessels to remain over night to wait for daylight to cross Sometimes heavy fogs prevail and these vessels are detained several days before they can cross in safety

Emaciation a Remediable Defect.

Leanness not only detracts from personal comeliness but is an index that the blood is deficient in nutritive properties To remedy emaciation enrich and purify the blood which will then develop healthy flesh This object is most readily attained through the agency of the great blood fertilizer and depurent Hostetter's Stomach Bitters which enables the stomach to extract from the food taken into it ample nourishment for the system removes all obstacles to complete digestion and assimilation and by stimulating the kidneys to vigorous action incites those organs to strain from the vital fluid in its passage through them impurities which would otherwise impair its flesh creating qualities Not only do the Bitters promote the development of solid fiber but they also increase muscular power and elasticity overcome nervousness banish mental depression and protect the system against disease

LEGISLATIVE NOTES.

THE CLOSING HOURS—A LABOR DAY'S WORK—DULLNESS STILL PREVALENT—THE BREAK FOR HOME.

[FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.]

SALEM, Oct. 21, 1876.

The closing day of the present session of the legislative assembly was not one of any special excitement in either branch. Both began work at the usual hour and passed several bills through the mill with considerable rapidity. The Senate made haste more slowly than the House, and the latter, being more heterogenous in its character, was a little more difficult to manage.

It seemed as if a great many members had put off their pet measures until the last day, and hence there were dozens upon dozens of bills that were urged upon the attention of the members, and though not all of these were brought to a final vote, several were got through only because certain members made them their special charge. There were quite as few obnoxious measures consummated in the last hours of the session as was expected, though there were rumors that attempts would be made to prolong the session [illegible] the middle of next week that a few [illegible] might be saddled upon the people. If there was any serious intention of doing anything of the kind the authors began too late [illegible] to [illegible] an organization of their plans before the forty [illegible] and a wise provision of the constitution shut off the pay of the [illegible] and [illegible] such a work more difficult [illegible]. There was an effort in the [illegible] to [illegible] the joint resolution fixing the time of adjournment, but the motion was quite promptly voted down. With a full house it never could have been rescinded in the lower branch, but might, in the absence of not more than three or four members. The [illegible] was [illegible] so far that "noses were counted," and it was found that the attempt [illegible] prove [illegible]. Now, the session has [illegible] there is some talk of a call for an extra [illegible] we have not heard of such a [illegible] any friend of the people. We [illegible] the matter left to the taxpayers [illegible] the [illegible], neither a special nor any [illegible] would be held in the [illegible] ten years. All admit that in the way of wholesome legislation, comparatively nothing has been done. Over 300 bills on various subjects were introduced, two-thirds of which [illegible] the State Printer, as they never [illegible] up after the second reading. Many of [illegible] on the subject of corporations, and while there may have been a few provisions [illegible] that would have been well in the [illegible] of laws, we do not fear that anything of [illegible] to the people at large has been lost [illegible] failure to pass, and if there is any [illegible] it is not to complete [illegible] which this [illegible] has begun.

[illegible] tially affect the people's interests [illegible] the [illegible] appropriation bill, the [illegible] the support of the deaf mute and [illegible] the State university, and the [illegible] wagon road bills. These [illegible] the modes in which [illegible] dollars are to be disbursed [illegible] some of the modes point [illegible] enough to be clearly [illegible] we have no doubt [illegible] with the work of carrying [illegible] will be able to see that the full [illegible] and as brother Ferguson [illegible] wished to "clean things [illegible]" it is entirely safe to say [illegible] "[illegible] ned up" principle [illegible] appropriation [illegible] appropriation bills the work [illegible] up very light in its results. [illegible] tion bill failed in the [illegible] last [illegible] also went [illegible] the law in [illegible] to poll-tax [illegible] poll-tax now will go into [illegible]. The bill to regulate warehouses [illegible] which might also have been entitled [illegible] provide for the imprisonment of [illegible] a soulless object known as [illegible] received a handsome majority in [illegible] but met its death in the Senate [illegible] some who saw its absurdity, [illegible] of the House thought not [illegible] be attempting something [illegible] be did," and actually [illegible] a provides that a corporation owning or controlling any warehouse should, on [illegible] be deemed guilty of larceny and [illegible] by imprisonment. Strange [illegible] who professes the law [illegible] no argument against the proposition.

THE CENTENNIAL BILL,

[illegible] for the payment of the [illegible] of [illegible] exhibits at Philadelphia and appropriating $3,800 therefor, after a considerable [illegible] the Senate, passed that body, and [illegible] the House had it come up [illegible] tion. It evoked a spirited [illegible] in which quite a number of members [illegible] and some pretty harsh language [illegible] and Cheeseman joined [illegible] it, and though they may [illegible] good reason for so doing, [illegible] at their position, as well as that of [illegible], who supported the [illegible]. The [illegible] fact may have helped to [illegible], as when Ferguson supported [illegible] a good many suspected the [illegible] brother in the fence. In [illegible] of [illegible] Democratic official [illegible] member from Lake [illegible] for spite and contrary to his [illegible] views. [illegible] fought it with all his [illegible] and the friends of the bill point at him [illegible] of its death.

PILOTAGE AND TOWAGE.

[illegible] Davis introduced a bill some weeks [illegible] a very needful and proper [illegible] laws on the subject of [illegible] towage on the Columbia and [illegible]. It passed through the Senate but never reached the House till noon of the last day of the session. Goodsell moved [illegible] it the special order for 7 o'clock in the evening, and it was brought up at that [illegible] with only about half a dozen [illegible] votes, but was not enrolled or signed and [illegible] come to naught, a fact to be regretted by all who wish the prosperity of the commercial interests of the State. A better bill even than the one killed ought to have [illegible], but as the senior Yamhill member is accustomed to observe, a half loaf is better than no bread, and the defeated measure would have been better than none.

THE STATE TAX BILL

Is left, as we understand, in a somewhat befuddled condition. It originally provided for a tax of 4 mills to pay the current State expenses and 3 mills to defray outstanding indebtedness, but was amended in the House by striking out 3 and inserting 2½. When the bill was sent to the Senate the amendment was left out and the bill as passed by that body is for a 3-mill tax. Whether this will invalidate we will not discuss, but merely state that it was reported as properly enrolled and signed by the presiding officers of both Houses. A similar botch was made somewhere with a bill regulating the times for holding the circuit courts in the 4th district so that it was returned by the Governor for correction, and died at the hands of the House.

THE GAME UP.

As the time for adjournment drew near last night, the Senate and House interchanged messages with rapid frequency, and the pages were kept busy running to and fro carrying them, as well as conveying to the clerk written resolutions, which members were anxious to get through. Haines of Baker said he thought he could make fifty votes for Tilden in Eastern Oregon by having the House pass a buncombe resolution on the subject of the stoppage of work on the canal and locks at the Cascades, and he got the resolution through, though, as far as known, no work had ever been commenced.

The close of the session of an Oregon legislature usually furnishes a few moments of excitement, but this did nothing of the kind, and when the hour arrived, the Governor was waited on and sent word that he had no further communication to make the presiding officers very briefly returned their thanks to the members, and the thing flickered like a tallow dip and went out we trust to come in no more forever.

OUR BEST BOW

Is made to Mr Secretary of State Chadwick, the presiding officers, Messrs Whiteaker and Weatherford, the clerks, Messrs Simpson and White, sergeant-at-arms of the House Mr Wiley the door keepers and many of the members, for their uniform kindness in furnishing every reportorial accommodation required. They did us many favors.

LATEST FROM CASSIAR.

The Isabel arrived at Victoria on the 13th from Fort Wrangel bringing down 250 passengers—of whom 77 were Chinamen—$160,000 in gold dust, Johnston's express, 91 mules, the property of Messrs Grant and McThompson, four government horses and two belonging to "Oregon Jack." The Isabel sailed from Wrangel on the 8th. She experienced calm weather, but was somewhat delayed by fog. There are still 80 mules in the mines which will come down per first opportunity, whilst a number of others will winter at Fort Wrangel. It is expected that the steamer Otter will leave Wrangel with upwards of 150 passengers on board, and it is estimated that there are still some 500 men in the mines, comparatively few of whom will be content to winter there. Nearly all claims will suspend operations about the 15th inst.

THE NEWS FROM THE MINES

Is favorable and on the whole encouraging being equal to the expectations of the miners, a majority of whom intend to return next spring. Twenty thousand dollars arrived down by Johnston's express, and a large amount of treasure is reported on the way out from the mines. Hill diggings have been struck on Thibert creek and the Discovery claim on McDame has again developed unusually rich ground. Good news has been received from Rosella Creek and prospects on Rapid River are such as to warrant rather favorable expectations as to next season's operations. The weather at the mines is cold and clear indicating the season's approaching close. On Berry Creek, a tributary of Thibert Creek, Midbow & Collins have taken out upwards of $15,000 during the season, and three week's since Midbow took out $150 in a day and a half—one man working. Midbow intends to winter on the claim and will drive a tunnel into the side hill. Prospectors on Thibert have found that the gold lies in the old channel of the creek, high up, probably 100 feet on the hill. There are now about a dozen companies working on the side hill, and their claims cover nearly two miles of ground. All of them have met with splendid prospects, and it is supposed that the diggings in this part of the country will, without exception, be drifting diggings. Their extent has yet, however, to be proved. Roland & Co., on the mouth of Boulder Gulch, are taking out two ounces to the hand per day, and Gillis, Sutton & Co, lower down on Thibert, are doing equally well. The other companies are simply prospecting. W. McColl, who has been working a claim near the mouth of Thibert Creek, brought down $4,000 yesterday, and his partner, Collins, also has a similar amount. On Dease creek many of the claims have been purchased by Chinese companies; one of the claims there which has paid well during the season is the Caledonia, which is said to have cleared some $10,000. Chinamen subsequently bought the claim, after it had been nearly worked out for $2,500. The discovery claim (Dease) has paid Capt. Moore 105 ozs., clear of all expenses, and two men who were employed to work it on shares, make from $800 to $1,000 each. On McDame it is reported that very good hill diggings have been discovered, and several creek claims are paying well. Prospectors who have visited Taroou river do not seem very favorably impressed with the country or the results of their labors, and it is probable that no claims will be located in that northern section. Operations on Deloire river and Sayyea creek are almost discontinued, and the expectations as to that locality have not been realized. Not more than 40 men will winter in Cassiar, and of them 25 will remain on Thibert, 6 or 7 on McDame and the remainder elsewhere. Merchants have done very well at Lakelown, the distributing point for outlying districts. The river steamers intended to make one more trip [illegible] after the steamer Isabel left Fort Wrangel, which would enable them to bring down all the miners and animals which were either coming out or waiting at Glenora to return to the coast. On the 26th ultimo there was eight inches of snow on Thibert creek and the ice formed at night was already materially retarding mining operations. It was thought, however, that clear weather would follow and that at least two more weeks' work would be put in. With the exception of a few cases of scurvy amongst miners who wintered in Cassiar last year, the general health has been good, and there are no serious accidents to record.

TO THE VOTERS OF COWLITZ AND WAHKIAKUM COUNTIES.

ILWACO, PACIFIC CO., W. T., Oct. 9.

The WEEKLY OREGONIAN of October 7th, 1876, contains an address to the independent voters of your counties, signed by M. S. Griswold, chairman of the committee on nominations for Pacific County Independent Convention. In this address Mr. Griswold says: "The avowed object of this candidate (C. A. Reed) is local legislation, the nature of which is understood to be a threat against property and vested rights." In Pacific county it is well understood that such a charge has no foundation in truth, and needs neither refutation nor comment from me; but in the counties of Cowlitz and Wakiakum, where I am not so well known, it is possible some might be found to credit Mr. Griswold's statement. I desire first to call your attention to the fact that Mr. Griswold, in making this charge, leaves you altogether in the dark as to the nature or character of the proposed local legislation which he says is my avowed object. If there was even the shadow of foundation for such a charge, why does he not out with it like a man, so that you can get an intelligent understanding of the matter upon which to base your action at the polls on the 7th day of November next. But he studiously avoids any such explanation for fear of exposing the secrets of the little squad of men for whom he assumes to speak. The promiscuous jingle of words in which this gentleman indulges himself when he says "threats against property and vested rights," "French socialism," "American soil" and "the preponderance of a foreign vote," etc., bears the indelible impress of the political trickster and demagogue. In regard to the preponderance of the foreign vote in this county, such is not the fact, while it is true we have quite a number of citizens in this county of foreign birth, who are, as a class, industrious, useful and enterprising and who, in point of intelligence and integrity of character will bear favorable comparison with the average citizens of this county. And now, as to my avowed object, for it is true that I have one, and do not hesitate to say what that object is. As a citizen and taxpayer of Pacific county, my object now is, and has been in time past, to promote the general prosperity of the county by giving proper encouragement to the development to each and every one of its rich and varied natural resources; to use my best endeavors to hasten the survey of agricultural lands and thereby open them up to actual settlers who come to cultivate the soil; to aid in the construction of public roads whenever they are found practicable, and in cases where there is too little local labor to insure their speedy construction. If there is no authority in law by which the county commissioners are justified in appropriating money, then I am in favor of legislation to enable them to do so in all cases where the advantages to be desired will fully justify the outlay. What I have said in regard to this matter is, and shall be my object for all the counties which comprise this council district. If elected to the office for which I am nominated, my object shall be first to make myself thoroughly acquainted with the legislative wants of the whole district, without regard to the particular county in which I happen to reside especially with the great salmon fishing interests now only partially developed, the greater portion of which are located within the limits of this council district. I shall deem it my imperative duty to visit and consult representative men who are engaged in that branch of industry and solicit advice and information in regard to what legislation, if any, is necessary to secure its permanent prosperity. Having secured proper knowledge of the legislative wants of the district, you can rest assured that no effort shall be spared on my part, by all honorable means, to promote the best interests of the whole district.

C. A. REED.
